

YANG HAO-ZHONG

Junior Year Student in Tamkang University

INTRODUCTION

My name is Hao-Zhong, Yang. I'm a third year student in the Computer Science Internet Engineering department of Tamkang University.

The opportunity to become interested in information was when I took elective courses in high school. I participated in laser cutting, Arduino and radio operations. It was just that I completed the steps in sequence according to the instructions of the instructor at that time, which was my initial understanding of the information. Currently I'm learning programming and trying to implement them with hardware devices.
